Co-Teaching is an effective instructional approach for reaching the wide range of student needs in today's inclusive classrooms. This two-day virtual session will provide participants with clear descriptions of the best co-teaching models for mixed-ability classrooms, practical ways for defining roles, planning for and providing instruction based on high standards, and tips for maximizing the value of each team member.

Participants will also learn the keys to building capacity at the district level with a roll-out plan, guidelines for administrators, coaching and scheduling tips, walk-through tools and staff development ideas.

Come with enthusiasm and leave with the tools you need to develop, sustain and grow co-teaching in your school or district!
